Located within the Campo Alegre 1024 development, this unique property stands out for establishing a harmonious relationship between nature and urban living, as well as for the quality of its architecture, its careful integration into the landscape, and a contemporary approach where comfort, sustainability, and well-being take center stage. Each space has been designed to make the most of the excellent sunlight, the green surroundings, and the serenity of one of the city's most exclusive neighborhoods. This duplex home was designed to represent a contemporary interpretation of single-family housing within a high-quality condominium complex. Spanning two floors, it features an elegant interior courtyard that allows natural light t...
